Cyclists' rack up anger over lack of bike spaces

By George Welch

MARGINALISED cyclists have hit out at a lack of promised cycling spaces following the grand re-launch of the Westgate shopping centre last week.

Cycle campaign group Cyclox has accused the developers of 'running rings' around the planning authorities and of breaching planning conditions after less than 20 per cent of bicycle spaces were installed on opening day.

The new £440million complex will have just over 1,000 cycling spots fitted, including a hub of about 180 spaces located inside the centre, but only 180 were installed when the ribbon was cut on Tuesday last week.

This has resulted in excessive illegal parking around the centre – particularly on the opening weekend – as cyclists attempted to park their bikes.

Developers Westgate Oxford Alliance has apologised for the delay and promised the cycle parking would be installed as soon as possible.

But Cyclox chair Simon Hunt said the shortage was 'unacceptable'.

He said: "There are no cycle parking spaces in convenient locations – none at all.

"Overall, the storyline for cycling at new Westgate has been one of wholly inadequate planning, complete marginalisation by the developer and deafness by the Westgate Oxford Alliance and by both councils to repeated interventions by cycling advocates like Cyclox.

"And that is only the parking. Don't get us started on the similar failure to provide attractive, well-signed cycle routes to and from new Westgate to help ease the major travel problems its opening will create.

"Practically nothing has been done to help cycle users to reach the new facilities, or to help staff to pedal their way to work there."

Teacher sent inappropriate messages to a former pupil

By Eva Astreinidou

A 25-year old man has been banned from teaching after sending inappropriate messages of a sexual nature to a child.

A professional conduct panel convened last month to consider the case of Jack Fursdon, a teacher at the Henry Box School in Witney at the time.

He has been banned indefinitely although the order can be reviewed after two years.

Members of the National College for Teaching and Leadership alleged he had inappropriate contact with Child A via Facebook m or around September 2016

The panel found the messages were inappropriate, and included sexual topics questions on Child A's sexual experience and comments on weight and size

The messages were sent to a girl at a school where Mr Fursdon was previously a teaching assistant.

Mr Fursdon accepted he used sexual innuendo with the child but denied that the contact was sexually motivated.

The girl prepared a written statement for the panel, in which she said: "Not long into the conversation he started to ask some inappropriate questions which made me feel uncomfortable and scared."

The panel deemed that Mr Fursdon had been 'naive and foolish' in contacting a former pupil who was still under the age of 18, on social media after leaving his position at Marlborough School.

A statement from the Henry Box School said "The allegations being made against a former teacher at The Henry Box School do not relate to any current or former student at this school.

"The Henry Box School takes the safeguarding of our students very seriously and as soon as the school were made aware of the allegations against this teacher the school acted to ensure any possible safeguarding risk to our students was prevented."

Man charged with 'being a member of IS' in Syria

A 21 year-old man from Oxford has been charged with being a member of the so-called Islamic State and is being held in northern Syria, Kurdish forces have confirmed.

Former Cherwell School pupil Jack Letts, nicknamed Jihadi Jack converted to Islam while in Oxford before travelling to the so-called Islamic State (IS) then stronghold of Raqqa in 2014

Officials from the Democratic Federation of Northern Syria (DFNS) – who are fighting against IS – issued a statement to the BBC over the weekend stating that Mr Letts is currently held in a Qamishli prison le northern Syria.

Sinam Mohamad, the European representative of DFNS said they were treating Mr Letts in accordance with the Geneva Convention and international human rights standards

This is the first time Kurdish forces have confirmed the capture of Mr Letts as a prisoner of war

The statement added that, although Kurdish officials have not yet received any official request to return Mr Letts they would be willing to hand him over to the British government once their investigation had concluded.

Meanwhile, an Oxford University worker has been suspended after it was alleged online material had emerged showing he had links to Islamic terrorism.

University chiefs sanctioned the action after it was brought to their attention that the 'non-academic' employee, whose identity hasn't been revealed, was arrested for terrorism offences and detained in Italy five years ago.

It was alleged at the time that the man was involved in spreading extremist material and although he denied committing an offence he spent two-and-a half years in a number of prisons

An internal investigation has been launched and Thames Valley Police has been alerted.

2018 Pride date and a new logo

OXFORD Pride has announced the date for its 2018 parade and unveiled a new group logo.

Oxford Pride day will take place on Saturday, June 2, at the Castle Quarter

It will include a Pride Parade from the Radcliffe Camera weaving through the city centre streets to the Castle Quarter

It comes as Oxford Pride unveiled its new logo which draws on the ax of Oxford and the rainbow symbolism of the diverse Oxfordshire community

OXFORD PRIDE

Oxford Pride said it hoped the new image would inspire more people to join the lesbian gay bisexual and trans (LGBT) community

It said the theme for 2018 was True Colours and "Oxford Pride want to encourage more people to explore and celebrate their identities"

Oxford Pride chair Paul McGinn said the event would be a day of entertainment music stalls and food.

He said. "Last year a fantastic 7,000 people joined us on the day to enjoy first class entertainment in the beautiful June sunshine and we plan to offer even more this year"

Anyone interested in volunteering or any businesses who want to sponsor the event should email chair@oxford-pride.org.uk.

BUILDERS ditched their usual rough tough safety gear for pink attire to raise awareness of breast cancer

Construction staff at David Wilson Homes Mercia in Oxfordshire dressed to impress for wear it pink last month.

Site teams swapped their usual hard hats and high visibility jackets for bright pink hats and vests to do their bit for the wear it pink campaign

Steve Barton, senior sales manager at David Wilson Homes Mercia, said. "We were delighted to support wear it pink for breast cancer awareness and I think our construction team had a lot of fun getting to wear pink PPE for the day

"We took part in the fantastic campaign to supporting those suffering with breast cancer and hopefully do our bit towards raising awareness

"It is very important that as a leading housebuilder we are getting involved and supporting charities like this.

"We hope that our contribution to the Breast Cancer Campaign can help to make the day even bigger and better than last year and raise money to help us get closer to beating breast cancer altogether."

On a national level almost £2million is raised every year by wear it pink supporters which helps fund research.

Fourth company peddles benefit of dockless bikes in 'cycling city'

By George Welch

A RECENT bike craze continued to sweep through Oxford this week with the launch of a fourth dockless bike scheme in four months.

Mobike is the latest firm to pitch up, introducing a further 100 bikes and taking the number in the city to around 500.

Since Ofo launched in August, Pony Bikes and oBike have set up, with Mobike opening for business on Tuesday.

The city council's cycling champion, councillor Louise Upton, welcomed Oxford's latest addition to make Oxford the 'number one cycling city in the UK'.

She said: "We want to get far more people in Oxford cycling, and that includes commuters going to work, children going to school or tourists getting out from the city centre to enjoy other parts of Oxford.

"Responsible bike-share operators are welcome in the city. They can be the nudge that gets people to try cycling who haven't done it for a while.

"Anything that helps us towards our goal of being the number one cycling city in the UK is great."

Mobike, which has also launched in Manchester, Ealing and Newcastle in the past few months, announced its arrival shortly after the city council announced plans to ban all petrol and diesel vehicles from the city centre by 2035.

Mobike believes its unique GPS and smart-lock technology, alongside its partnership with Cycle.Land, an Oxford bike-sharing platform, will help make its service more efficient and tailored to the city in comparison to competition.

General manager Steve Fyer said: "Oxford's bike sharing culture is already very vibrant and the city has long been looking for ways to increase cycling in the city to allow people to get on a bike when and where they need to.

"We're confident that the added value our unique proprietary technology brings to long-term infrastructure planning and our commitment to sustainability, combined with Cycle. Land's in-depth knowledge of bike usage in Oxford, will make us a leading and long-lasting partner of the city."

All four dockless bike schemes are currently undergoing a trial period and must get permission from the city and county councils before expanding.

Westgate: More spaces arriving here in the coming weeks

Criticism has also come from Oxfordshire's Green Party, which said there is 'little prospect' of the promised 1,000 cycle spots.

Green councillor Dick Wolff said: "Signs from the ring road send the message 'city centre drivers welcome'.

"The message to cyclists is equally clear: 'you don't matter'."

In response, a Westgate Oxford Alliance spokesperson told this newspaper: "We would like to assure visitors to Westgate Oxford that over 1,000 new cycle spaces will be available for public use and we are working hard to get these installed as soon as possible.

"At present there are 180 spaces in the immediate vicinity with many more arriving in the coming weeks.

"Current spaces are available on Thames Street and Norfolk Street around the John Lewis store, on Old Greyfriars Street where it meets Faulkner Street and Pike Terrace as well as existing spaces on St Ebbe's Street and Peony Farthing Place.

"We apologise for any inconvenience caused by the delays."

Nearly 2,000 people signed a petition asking the city council where the 1,000 bike racks are.

It can be viewed and/or signed at tinyurl.com/ycth6qtl.

Wanted man found

POLICE have tracked down a wanted man.

Daniel Fitzsimons, 31, from Oxford, was arrested on Thursday last week after failing to comply with licensing conditions.

He has been recalled to prison.

Police had appealed for information from the public to help trace Fitzsimons.

Toy testers needed

LITTLE experts are invited to test out toys, games, and gadgets in the lead up to the festive season.

Templars Square shopping centre in Cowley is looking for at least two children aged five to 10 years old who will be filmed explaining how a selection of toys and games work, what they like about them, and what rating they would give them.

These videos could give parents a steer on what might be a good idea for their little one over Christmas.

Oodles of mud helps to raise oodles of cash

A GROUP of employees from Oxford braved climbing ropes being electrocuted and ice baths to raise more than £2 000 for charity

Start-up Oodle Finance took part in a gruelling 10-mile Tough Mudder run for Nepalese children s charity Kidasha which works to prevent abuse and exploitation of vulnerable children

The challenge was part of the initiative Kidasha Runs the World, an annual fundraising event held in Nepal and the UK, where volunteers, fundraisers and staff raise money for the charity

This year, 30 people in Nepal were also involved and overall more than £5,000 was raised for the charity

James Southon COO of Oodle Finance has been taking part in the initiative for the past few years.

He was inspired to raise money for the charity after visiting Nepal and seeing the projects Kidasha runs first-hand

He said: "The Tough Mudder was a fantastic experience It was very physically demanding, which meant we had to work as a team to get through the course But with everyone working together we were able to push ourselves and complete it."

James was joined at Tough Mudder by teammates Claire Roberts Matthew Croxford Francisco Jesus, Victoria Harris, James Fraser and Suzette Shipton

The team waa pushed to the limits of their endurance

Janice Miller CEO of Kidasha said: "The dedication of the UK team was integral to the success of this year s event. The money raised will go to helping some of the world s most vulnerable children – we are so grateful to everyone who got involved."

Assault charge

A 56 year-old man has been charged with assault after a dog walker was punched in the face several times.

The 53-year-old man said to treated for cuts to the face and a broken nose at the John Radcliffe Hospital after the incident on June 3

The victim was walking his dog in the recreation ground off Oxford Road in Littlemore just after 11am when he was approached by the offender who was also walking a dog.

The offender was verbally abusive to the man before assaulting him by repeatedly punching him in the face.

Tarrance Stockwell, of Astrop Lane, Oxford, was sent a postal requisition charged with assault

He was due to appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on Tuesday

Woman hit by car

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a woman was hit by a car and seriously injured.

Officers said a yellow Peugeot 107 struck the pedestrian, a 62-year-old woman outside the fire station in Horspath Driftway at about 7 40am on Friday last week.

She was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital with serious injuries

Anyone with information should call police on 101 quoting reference 222 (27/10), or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0808 555 111

Take rubbish home to keep city streets clean

By Eva Astreinidou

SHOPPERS taking their litter home is just one suggestion to tackle the increase in visitors in Oxford city centre and Westgate.

The city council announced last week extended shop opening hours and increased footfall which may lead to an increase in litter could result in street cleaning services in the city centre being used more.

The plans suggested shoppers can help by taking their litter home but also include new solar powered bins that compact litter and hold up to 10 times more waste than older style bins.

The new high-tech bins, which will be introduced on a trial basis in Cornmarket this month, will also automatically message the council when they need to be emptied.

In addition, there will be a revised service operating from 5am to 9.30pm seven days a week – this will include more mechanical cleaning while the streets are empty as the city council has bought two new street cleaning machines

Cllr John Tanner board member for a Clean and Green Oxford, said. "We are taking the opportunity of the new Westgate opening to make the whole of the city centre cleaner and tidier as we will be cleaning it for longer every day I want to thank our cleaning teams for their flexibility in taking on new rotas to make Oxford a clean and welcoming city for everyone."

But Green party councillor Craig Simmons said the measures are an example of 'corporate welfare'

He said. "Challenging questions will be asked about how much public money is going into subsidising Westgate. Several examples of 'corporate welfare' have recently come to light including additional investment in cleaning equipment and staffing to mitigate the effects of the Westgate."

Bid to tackle city's most polluted street

A SPECIAL taskforce has been set up to tackle Oxford's most polluted street.

St Clement's Street has exceeded the legal limit of air pollution levels for the past five years.

Last year the street was found to be 50 per cent over the limit at 61µg/m3 The legal limit is 40µg/m3

Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council have set up a joint working group to look at the sources of pollution and come up with targeted proposals to reduce the levels.

Councillor Yvonne Constance, Oxfordshire county council's cabinet member for transport, said "The zero emission zone will ultimately bring benefits for areas inside and outside the zone but right now there are places like St Clement's Street where we really need to focus on solutions that will have an effect sooner"

Proposals for the zero emission zone aim to reduce air pollution in Oxford city centre by up to 74 per cent but the proposed zone does not cover St Clement's Street.

Green party and city councillor David Thomas said he welcomes the new group, but said St Clement's Street should be included in the plans for a zero emission zone.

He said. "It is difficult to take the city council seriously whilst they are cutting car parking charges in the city centre, adding more car parking spaces and failing to enforce planning conditions about the provision of cycle parking."

The cast and crew of the pilot episode – Scott Morgan, Sally Beaumont, Josh Bream, Aleena Kumar, Andrew Phelan and Ross Arrowsmith

In other news, help is needed to fund show

By Samantha McGregor

TWO budding film makers have launched an appeal to help pay for a comedy documentary to be made.

Ross Arrowsmith and Scott Morgan have completed the pilot episode of show In Other News and now hope to raise £6 500 from a crowdfunding campaign to pay for five further episodes to be filmed.

The show is set just after the launch of fictitious TV channel South UK TV Oxford and documents the escapades of the people behind the scenes as they report on "ridiculous" news stories and overcome technical difficulties.

Ross said the idea for the show came from humorous situations he and Scott encountered while working in local television.

He said the topic had not been explored by any mainstream television comedy.

Ross urged people to donate to the appeal. He said: "After months of writing, preparation, pre production and filming, the pilot episode will be released by the first weekend of November.

"In the pilot, we meet the employees of South UK TV Oxford, a fictitious local news channel.

"After only one week on air things are already falling apart and a fly-on-the-wall documentary crew are there to capture it all.

"Now that the pilot episode is completed, a crowdfunding campaign is being launched on Kickstarter to fund a further five episodes to complete a first series of six episodes."

The crowdfunding campaign will run for 30 days and people can sign up to a variety of packages such as a mention in the end credits, a copy of the DVD, t-shirts, mugs and an invite to the premiere.

Ross said the funding will allow the team to "increase the quality of the production as well as actually make the five episodes."

It will also give local actors an opportunity to get involved.

Calls to sack whip over letter to uni

AN MP has written to the Prime Minister calling for her to sack a government whip who wrote to universities asking the names of academics teaching about Brexit and their course content.

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Layla Moran wrote to Theresa May last week after it was revealed Eurosceptic MP and senior government whip Chris Heaton-Harris made the requests to all of Britain's universities.

He did not explain what he planned to do with the information.

Ms Moran, the Liberal Democrats's education spokesperson, said: "This chilling letter could have come straight out of a dystopian novel.

"Conservative Eurosceptics know they have lost the intellectual debate and now appear to be engaging in a witch-hunt.

"Academic freedom is vital to our thriving university sector and one of the cornerstones of a modern democracy.

Chris Heaton-Harris sent a letter to all universities asking about the teaching of Brexit

"Theresa May must send a clear signal that this kind of behaviour by members of the government is unacceptable and sack Chris Heaton-Harris as a whip."

Daventry MP Mr Heaton-Harris who is yet to comment fully has been accused of "idiotic Leninism and a "McCarthy style" plot.

He has since been referred to the Commons Standards Commissioner over claims he broke rules on MPs' conduct because the notes were reportedly sent on taxpayer-funded Commons paper for his book.

In a tweet last week, which garnered 3 200 replies, Mr Heaton-Harris said: "To be absolutely clear I believe in free speech in our universities and in having an open and vigorous debate on Brexit."

Lord Patten of Barnes, Chancellor of Oxford University, described the letter as "absolutely disgraceful" and "offensive and idiotic Leninism".

No 10 has distanced itself from the letter.

Bus driver tried to steer away to avoid collision that killed cyclist

By George Welch

A BUS driver who ran over a cyclist couldn t have done anything to avoid the tragedy

Oxford University student Claudia Comberti, 31 of Cumberland Road, died on May 9 after being hit by a double decker bus at the junction with McDonald s in Botley Road, Oxford.

An inquest heard how she lost her balance while riding a red Genesis Equilibrium racing bike and fell sideways into traffic as she pulled away from traffic lights.

Oxford Bus Company driver Leslie Otto who has worked for the firm for more than two-and-a half years and had driven Oxford routes for eight months had to be calmed down by passengers after the incident.

Giving evidence in person on Thursday last week, he said that, due to the 'weird and unnatural' angle of Miss Comberti's fall, the incident 'could not' have been predicted, adding: "If she fell off the bike 'normally' I would have avoided her."

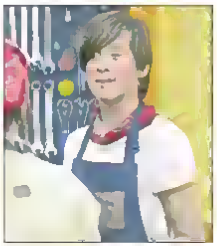
This was an evaluation subsequent police investigations and coroner Darren Salter agreed with, the latter saying the manner of the driver who only had a one second response time, was 'reasonable'

A police report added that Mr Otto, who was driving the 4B service, had 'insufficient time and distance' to avoid the incident

Miss Comberti wobbled slightly as she pulled away before falling into the path of the bus damaging the front left of the bus but being run over by the front and rear wheels on the right.

Mr Otto also said. 'I tried to steer as far as I could to the right. I heard a thud and realised she had been hit.

"I hoped she was okay I am so sorry



Claudia Comberti helped out at a cycla workshop

CCTV footage from the bus shows Claudia Comberti at the junction just before tha accidant in May for what happened. I did my best to avoid [the collision] What happened happened very quickly."

Mr Salter believes Miss Comberti s right foot slipped off the pedal causing her to fall into the road. She was wearing normal shoes but her bike required specialist footwear for its specific pedals

The bus was trying to overtake Miss Comberti, a fourth-year geography student, before colliding with the cyclist in the middle of the yellow box junction.

The blow from the front right wheel was 'not survivable' according to the police report.

The county council announced last month it had gained £5million funding from the government to better segregate buses and cyclists on Botley Road.

Mr Salter concluded a verdict of an accidental road traffic collision.

Police operation reaps 33 wanted

A NUMBER of fugitives have been arrested in Oxfordshire after breaching court orders and failing to appear in court.

Following a two-week operation by Thames Valley Police a total of 33 people were arrested, including 11 from Oxford and two others from the South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse districts

The arrests took place between October 2 and 13 as part of Operation Reaper following 194 arrest attempts early in the morning and late at night by a team of officers.

In total eight women and 25 men aged between 19 and 66 were located across Thames Valley with Oxford having the most arrests

They were facing a variety of offences, the largest number of which were for breaching court orders, then for driving related offences and theft.

Detective Sergeant Granville Williams, leading the operation, said it was 'disheartening' that offenders evade justice by failing to appear in court and going on the run as fugitives

He said. "Every day officers work really hard to safeguard victims and bring those that offend against them to justice. This two-week operation is part of the measures put in place to bring wanted fugitives to justice and achieve satisfactory closure for victims. I expect this successful initiative will continue."

£8m broadband boost to banish slow internet

By George Welch

AN investment of more than £8million could make frustratingly slow internet speeds a thing of the past for rural businesses and homes in west Oxfordshire.

More than 4,800 homes and businesses across the district will be connected to ultrafast full fibre broadband by the end of 2019, it was revealed in plans announced this week.

Fibre-to-the-premises technology will provide ultrafast broadband to those who have previously struggled to obtain even basic connectivity and enable high speeds of up to 1 000Mbps (1Gps).

West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) and the government's broadband agency BDUK will invest £3.1m between them with rural broadband company Gigaclear adding a further £5m.

As well as a faster service, Gigaclear has promised a more reliable broadband provision.

Councillor Colin Dingwall, cabinet member for broadband at WODC said: "Ultrafast broadband is essential for individuals and businesses in the area so we're pleased that, through the contract with Gigaclear, we can see this investment through.

"Oxfordshire is known as the UK's leading centre for innovation and we want to make sure we have the infrastructure to support this."

Many customers, particularly those in rural communities, have struggled with ageing copper wire based networks that can't support the increasing demands of technology and the needs of consumers for both work and play.

Joe Frost, Gigaclear's business development director, added: "Broadband is no longer just nice to have - it is a vital utility.

"Full fibre is the only future proofed solution, so by working with the district council, Gigaclear is helping to secure the area's digital economy."

West Oxfordshire residents have been forced to wait a little longer for their internet speeds to increase after a project to increase connectivity led by Cotswolds Broadband fell through in January.

A FOOTBALL-mad graduate from Bicester has made a quick fire move from League One to the Premier League after being headhunted by top-flight AFC Bournemouth.

Northampton University alumna Dan Buckley only began working for Oxford United's marketing department in December last year, but within just eight months he'd done enough to catch the eye of the Cherries and make the two-division leap to the south coast side.

The sports marketing graduate, who has become Bournemouth's sole dedicated marketer said, "It has been a rollercoaster year, to make it in to the Football League and then within a matter of months jump to the Premier League is something I never thought would be possible.

"I was approached about the position and started the week before the Premier League season kicked off.

"The club puts faith in young talent and I knew I could grow here. You only have to look at the first team manager, Eddie Howe, to see the greatest example of them trusting young and ambitious staff."

While Dan, who comes from a family of Nottingham Forest fans, is enjoying life in the Premier League he still retains affection for the U's.

"Oxford United was a great base for me and I met some wonderful people there," he said.

"Together we sold 30 000 tickets to Wembley, and I was allowed the opportunity to build them a brand new multi-tiered junior membership scheme as well as be in charge of this season's rebrand."

We must have a say on £3bn road

Concern over proposed routes

By George Welch

A CAMPAIGN group wanting to have its say on a new £3bn road linking Oxford to Cambridge has criticised how the route will be chosen as undemocratic

Residents councillors and 19 Oxfordshire parishes have joined together to call for greater public consultation under the guise of the Expressway Action Group

While the group wants a consultation over plans now Highways England (HE) said it is too early into the project to ask for opinions but that views would be welcomed later

This has raised concerns that an option to build on the green belt south of Oxford could be selected.

EAG co-ordinator Peter Rutt said: "We are extremely concerned that more than 10 miles of unspoilt countryside green belt, and irreplaceable wildlife havens would be destroyed by this new motorway and all without any proper consultation or democratic mandate.

"Oxfordshire deserves to be consulted on a project which would massively affect its residents' quality of living."

The National Infrastructure Commission and HE are currently looking at the three options

The first option (A) would mean a new road south of Oxford, running through Thame, Haddenham and Aylesbury

The second (B) would mean a new road, which would leave the A34 near Abingdon and run through 10 miles of the green belt south of Oxford.

The third option (C) would upgrade the A34 and junction nine of the M40 and then run past Bicester towards Milton Keynes.

The Oxford sub options show the potential routes around the city centre.

An HE spokesperson said. "Better connecting Oxford and Cambridge will help ensure the continued success of the brain belt, bringing clear benefits to the region and the country as a whole. HE has continued to carry out a full analytical, evidence based review ahead of detailed design and analysis work.

"We had a positive, constructive meeting recently with the CPRE and other stakeholders and we are committed to full public consultation before a preferred route is announced so people can help shape the proposals."

But Liberal Democrat county councillor for Wheatley Dr Kirsten Johnson has called for a consultation now, describing the infrastructure project as the most important in the region in a generation.

She said. "People are just not aware of the huge and adverse impact the Expressway would cause to our environment if a southern route is selected We need to have an open debate on the merits of each route."

Work on the road could begin as soon as 2020, or as late as 2025

Cars moved from garages in blaze

A FIRE threatened to tear through properties in Faringdon.

Fire and rescue service crews rushed to the scene on Monday after they received a call just before 11am. The fire had started in a garage on Coxwell Lodge Drive, Faringdon, but was rapidly spreading through adjoining garages and properties

The quick actions of the owner who discovered the fire and called the fire service out meant the crews were on scene within minutes and were able to save other cars by removing them from the adjacent garages

Station manager Paul Webster said. "On arrival we were faced with a challenging incident as we needed to protect the neighbours garages to the side and a domestic property to the rear of the garage block.

"The owner did start to attack the fire with his garden hose but soon realised the best action was to call the fire service out to prevent a further escalation of the incident."

A34: safety measures announced for road after spate of serious accidents

'Road is no worse than any similar one'

By George Welch

MEASURES to improve safety on the A34, the scene of a series of fatal crashes through Oxfordshire in recent years, have been announced.

Longer exit and entry roads, better lay-bys, improved signage and a crawler lane at East Ilsley have been identified as ways to improve safety on the busy and problematic road.

Highways England's (HE) A34 Safety Review looked at six areas between the M4 and the M40 to see whether accidents were being caused by the design of the road.

It identified a list of specific issues, which included length and design of merging junctions, spacing and layout of lay-bys, overgrown vegetation, gradient of Gore Hill (East Ilsley) and insufficient signage.

The safety review also stated that the road as a whole is not any worse than other similar roads and that driver behaviour is one of the biggest issues on the road overall.

Wantage MP Ed Vaizey, who met with HE last week, welcomed the recommendations.

He said: "I am pleased Highways England has looked so comprehensively at the safety concerns raised over the A34.

"The recommendations for improving safety on the road cover a wide variety of options and the key now is to push for the right solution to be adopted as soon as possible.

MPs Ed Vaizey and Richard Benyon welcomed the recommendations

"I will be lobbying the Department for Transport with my fellow MP's to provide funding for safety improvements and will be writing to the new roads minister, Jesse Norman, to set up a meeting."

Newbury MP Richard Benyon, who also attended the meeting with HE, added: "This is a great step forward but the fight is not over.

"Along with other stakeholders, we will now be lobbying the Department for Transport to take action as soon as possible to implement these proposals."

The government has not yet committed to the measures and further work will be undertaken before the full report is completed and submitted to the Department for Transport.

Several deaths and crashes prompt review

PROPOSALS to improve the A34 follow pressure from campaigners and local MPs after a number of deaths and crashes on the major 151-mile road.

Since June last year there have been multiple fatalities.

Tracy Houghton, 45, her two sons Ethan and Josh, 13 and 11, and her partner's daughter Aimee Goldsmith, 11, were killed when a lorry ploughed into stationary traffic at 50mph in August 2016.

Five other people were injured in the eight-vehicle collision between the East Ilsley and West Ilsley junctions. Polish lorry driver Tomasz Kroker was jailed for 10 years in October 2016.

The tragedy followed the death of Gavin Roberts, 28, on the same stretch of road in June 2016. Lewis Stratford, 24, of Field Avenue in Oxford, was sentenced to three years and eight months in prison in March this year.

In July this year a lorry driver was jailed for six years for causing the death of three-year-old Isla Wiggin, from Fleet, Hampshire, and causing her pregnant mother Collette to miscarry.

Thomas Hunter-59 from Mansfield, admitted causing the eight-vehicle crash on the northbound stretch at Hinksey Hill, Oxford, in August last year.

Tracy Haughtan was killed on August 10, 2016 with three children while Isla Wiggin was killed just 17 days later

The most recent fatality involved van driver Ian Messinger 40, of Pine Ridge Northamptonshire, whose vehicle crashed on the A34 near Abingdon on October 12. He died the following day at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

Further disruption was caused last week when an overturned van blocked a lane of traffic, pictured, on the northbound carriageway at East Ilsley just south of Didcot, before rush hour on Wednesday morning last week.

No one was injured in the incident.

Later the same morning a jack-knifed trailer partially blocked the northbound carriageway just south of the Marcham Interchange, near Abingdon.

On Sunday there was a four vehicle crash between Weston-on-the-Green and M40 Junction 9. Eight people were travelling in the cars but no one was significantly hurt in the incident, according to the fire service.

Victoria Prentis helped organise the day at Broughton Castle

Friends, pupils, actors lend me your ears for the Bard

PUPILS have been given a unique insight into Shakespeare's play Julius Caesar in the stunning setting of Broughton Castle.

Led by actors and directors from the Royal Shakespeare Company the historic castle was the backdrop to a Shakespeare workshop

Around 90 school children from across north Oxfordshire attended the event sponsored by Cherwell District Council.

The children were taken through extracts from the play Julius Caesar, with the RSC helping youngsters to interpret the text

Youngsters also got the opportunity to get stuck into some acting and bring scenes from the play to life

Banbury MP Victoria Prentis, who helped organise the day said. "This is the second year I have worked with the RSC to bring Shakespeare to the children of north Oxfordshire, and it is fast becoming an annual fixture.

"The actors and directors are so brilliant at bringing the characters and storylines to life, and it was fantastic to see every child fully immersed in the work of Shakespeare

"I am very grateful to the Fiennes family for hosting us at Broughton Castle again

"It is an amazing venue, and I can't think of a better place to hold an event like this The generous support from Cherwell District Council is also very much appreciated."

Women's pilot training scholarship launched

By Samantha McGregor

AN Oxford-based pilot training company has launched a dedicated female pilot scholarship scheme.

The launch took place at its Airline Pilot Careers Day and so far it has received more than 100 applicants

The initiative is operated in partnership with the British Women Pilots Association.

The scholarship scheme will enable one trainee female pilot to win £35 000 towards the price of a full-time EASA pilot training course.

The open day at Oxford Airport, Kidlington, gave would-be female pilots a chance to tour the facilities and talk to instructors and recent graduates

Julie Westhorp chairman of The British Women Pilots' Association and former commercial airline pilot and current CAA flight examiner said. "Nearly 50 years after the first woman took the controls as a commercial pilot and despite the industry's clear demand, the percentage of female pilots globally is still surprisingly low, at just three per cent

"We are proud to be partnering with Airways Aviation to help more women and girls see the world of possibility behind the cabin doors."

More than 100 applicants attended the careers day at Kidlington

Romy Hewatt, founder and shareholder of Airways Aviation, said. "Our global scholarship programme has been hugely successful so far and we've already been able to support some amazing candidates to begin their pilot training.

"We are pleased to be launching this new scholarship programme and hope that it will help to encourage more talented women to consider a career in aviation."

Applicants for the female scholarship will need to register their interest and complete a short online application form before November 24 Airways Aviation will then invite those candidates whose application meets the initial selection criteria to its Oxford headquarters to take the industry standard COMPASS test.

Once the test results are analysed, the top-scoring candidates will be invited to continue the process, with a presentation and panel interview at Oxford as the final stage.

Icknield School in its heyday and below, going back to school before the building is demolished

Memories of school days as old site set to make way for homes

By Samantha McGregor

HUNDREDS of pupils attended their former school for a nostalgic farewell before the building is demolished to make way for new homes.

King Alfred's Academy's east site, formerly known as Icknield School, welcomed nearly 800 visitors over a weekend last month.

It was a last chance for people to look around the site, meet old friends and sift through hundreds of photographs and press clippings.

Multi-million pound plans to knock down the school's east site in Springfield Road, which covers 12 acres, to make way for 150 homes were approved last year.

Money from the sale, believed to be about £11million, will be used to upgrade and extend the centre site in Portway and west site in Challow Road.

Visitors were also treated to a performance by The Icknield Way Morris Men – who in 1958 held lessons at an after school club there.

Headteacher Ja Halliday said: "It was such a privilege to meet the many different people whose lives have been influenced by their education here.

"It will be of course an historic moment for the town when east site closes its door to students on December 15 and the bell rings for the last time we don't underestimate how difficult that will be for many of us.

"However what we can look forward to are buildings and a school that are fit for purpose for the next generations of children in Wantage Grove and the villages.

"Many visitors realised how difficult it is now becoming to continue to repair east site, and we will be writing to everyone who visited this weekend to invite them to come and look around the new buildings and sites in the spring to get a sense of just how important this development is for the future of the school."

She said the school hoped to collate people's memories and other memorabilia to create a permanent record of Icknield School.

Organiser Jonathan Smith said: "We were delighted to welcome our visitors this weekend.

"Story after story about life on the site entertained us all. This included several stories from those who had lined up to be caned outside the head's office in decades gone by.

"Generally, most of the memories were extremely happy ones."

£750 fine for illegally dumping waste

A MAN has been ordered to pay £750 by Banbury Magistrates' Court after fly tipping in the town.

Last month the court heard that in November 2016 Jean-Marie Bounoungou, of Launton Road, Bicester, was caught on CCTV dumping suitcases, children's toys and a rocking chair in a metal-only skip at Wedgewood Crash Repair Centre.

Staff from the business had to enter the skip to remove the waste and then it had to pay for the waste to be disposed legally, it was said.

Bounoungou was fined £275, ordered to pay £100 compensation, £345 in council costs, and a £30 victim surcharge.

Cherwell District Council led the prosecution. Cllr Debbie Pickford said: "This may not be the worst environmental crime our enforcement officers have had to deal with.

"But it is unfortunate this gentleman decided to leave the waste for a local business to deal with when he lives less than six miles from Ardley tip.

"We hope this prosecution shows businesses that we will stand by them in tackling fly tippers."

Development plan for park

A MAJOR new manufacturing development is under way at Abingdon Business Park.

Foxcombe will comprise four high-tech industrial units covering nearly 50 000 sq ft and will target the county's research and development sector and the A34's 'knowledge corridor'.

Construction on the site, formerly an old office building, started in September and owners Rockspring Property Investment Managers LLP expect it to be completed by May.

Kim Sardar, European director at Rockspring, said: "While there has been significant refurbishment of existing buildings and re-landscaping of the park, this is our first speculative development project since taking over Abingdon Business Park in 2015.

"These new buildings are designed to attract growing high tech companies needing high quality facilities, trained staff and easy access to major road networks."

The firm added that the project would be built to a high specification that meets the latest green credentials.

When finished, units of 10,000 sq ft upwards will be available on a full repairing and insuring basis.

Anti-social ban considered to stop gatherings

PROPOSALS to ban some groups from congregating in areas of Thame are being considered after a spate of anti-social behaviour.

The move would give police extra powers to disperse groups of three or more if there were concerns about anti-social behaviour that a group was likely to cause alarm, distress or a nuisance in a public place.

South Oxfordshire District Council is proposing to introduce a new Public Spaces Protection Order which would only target anti social behaviour and would not prevent groups from gathering together who are doing so peacefully. Groups causing a problem may be fined if they fail to disperse when requested.

The council did not provide any details of the incidents in Thame.

A separate order for Henley is also being considered to retain existing police powers to tackle alcohol related anti-social behaviour.

SODC's cabinet member for community safety, Cllr Elizabeth Gillespie said: "PSPOs can be tailored to the needs of a specific town and it is important that the schemes we implement are suitable for Thame and Henley.

"We now want to hear what people think of the proposals."

Sighting of lizard wins competition

A LIZARD resting on heather and a copper-coloured butterfly perched on wild carrot flower are among the award-winning images from an Oxford photography competition.

The contest, the third annual Oxford Festival of Nature Photography Competition, was organised by Berks, Bucks & Oxon Wildlife Trust with all photographs taken on the wildlife trust's nature reserves.

The overall winner, and winner of the Wildlife category, was Matthew Hearne from Didcot.

He used a long-lens to snap the common lizard in the heather on Snelsmore Common nature reserve near Newbury.

Matthew, a regular visitor to the common, was with his children when he spotted the lizard.

He said it was the first time he had seen a lizard at the common and the first time he had won a photography competition.

His prize was a Panasonic camera and a ProHides photography day with top wildlife photographer Elliott Neep.

The Young Photographer category winner was Adam Dewar, 14, from Lower Earley, Reading, who captured a shot of an Essex Skipper butterfly poised on a wild carrot flower at Hosehill Lake nature reserve at Theale.

Matthew Hearne's shot of the lizard on heather and below, with children Wyatt and Evie

The first prize in the Wild Places category went to Jess Moore of Great Milton, for her black and white photo of Whitecross Green Wood nature reserve.

The prize-winning photographs are displayed on the website of the Berks, Bucks & Oxon Wildlife Trust at www.bbowt.org.uk/photography-competition-2017

Assault at pub

A 33-year-old man had to have plastic surgery after he was left with serious injuries in an attack that may have involved a glass.

Police released a CCTV image, below, of a man who could have vital information in connection with the incident at the Saxon pub in Sheep Street, Bicester.

The victim sustained serious injuries to his face and was taken to hospital for treatment where he required plastic surgery after the assault which happened at about 1.40am on October 10.

Contact police on 101.

School places time

PARENTS and carers whose children are due to start primary school next September — children born between September 1 2013 and August 31 2014 – can now apply for places online.

Details of how to apply are on oxfordshire.gov.uk and people are advised to state three preferences.

The deadline for applications is January 15 2018.

More support needed for foreign prisoners

By Samantha McGregor

CONCERNS have been raised that foreign inmates at an Oxfordshire jail do not get adequate resettlement support.

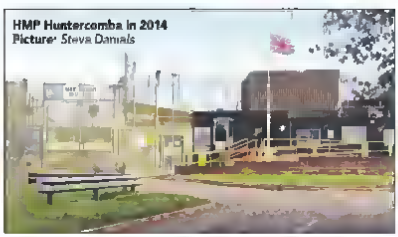
The Independent Monitoring Board's latest report, for January to December 2016, said inmates at Huntercombe jail were treated unfairly when compared to the way UK nationals were treated in prisons.

Huntercombe, near Henley, houses up to 480 inmates and is a category C training prison for foreign national adult males.

The IMB report, published last month, found inmates should have better telephone access "to allow easier communication with families in different time zones" and more assistance when returned to their own country.

The report said: "During the reporting year the Board was aware of situations where prisoners were returned to their home country with no assistance save for their actual delivery to their homeland – inadequately prepared and, often unable to move from the point of arrival to their home district.

"One incidence that stands out is the deportation of a Lithuanian prisoner in the winter without appropriate winter clothing."



HMP Huntercombe in 2014
Picture: Steve Daniels

It said the problem was not confined to Huntercombe but was an issue across prisons.

The report added the "main issue" to affect the prison in April 2016 was the death in custody of 20-year-old Darius Lasinskas.

It was the first death in custody in the jail's 70-year history.

A subsequent report by the Prisons and Probation Ombudsman said although staff were aware Mr Lasinskas was "anxious about being transferred to serve the remainder of his sentence in a Lithuanian prison, there was little to indicate he was at imminent and high risk of suicide."

It said his death would have been "difficult for staff at Huntercombe to have predicted or prevented his actions."

The report also said improvements could be made to legal access available to inmates and improved education to help better prepare inmates for release and resettlement.

But overall "the Board considers the prison to be well run, management, staff and contractors collaborate and work well together" and prisoners seemed "relatively content with the regime."

A Prison Service spokesperson said: "We welcome this independent report which has commended the good work being done at Huntercombe. We will look at the board's findings carefully."

Old and new crafts

A TRADITIONAL craft fair returns at the weekend with a unique mix of traditional and modern.

The event runs tomorrow until Sunday at Abbey Buildings in Abingdon.

A team of curators have selected a dynamic and interesting range of crafts for the event including pottery, textiles, metalwork, millinery jewellery, woodwork and creative vintage upcycling.

There will be demonstrations and the chance to try out some crafts.

Profits from the event go to the Friends of Abingdon Civic Society for the upkeep of ancient buildings.

For more information, visit www.abingdoncraftfair.org.uk.

Join Santas in town

HUNDREDS of Santas will be running, walking or sleigh riding through Wallingford next month.

People can now sign up to the town's 3km Santa Dash on December 3.

The route starts at Wallingford School travelling through the town's parks before ending up in the Market Place.

Open to Santas of all ages and their canine little helpers, proceeds from the event will go to local charity Style Acre.

Professor trampled to death by cows as he tried to save his dog

By George Welch

A MILLIONAIRE retired Oxford University professor was trampled to death by a herd of cows while trying to save his Labrador from the stampede, an inquest has heard.

Professor Brian Bellhouse, an Emeritus Fellow at Magdalen College, was killed when walking his dog Baldrick with a friend and his puppy on land he owned in the East Sussex village of Guestling on June 12.

Around 20 cows and calves suddenly stampeded towards them and Mr Bellhouse's black, frail Labrador became trapped underneath the herd, according to friend John Clarke.

But when Prof Bellhouse, 80, attempted to save him, he was thrown to the ground and trampled by the animals who crushed his chest and tore off his ear.

Baldrick, who was visibly injured and bleeding from the mouth, was later put down by the family.

According to the Daily Mail, retired police officer Mr Clarke, 61, told the inquest in Hastings: "We had his dog Baldrick with us – a bloody old black Labrador. We also had a little pup with us.

"The cattle were used to Baldrick and the pup was kept on a lead.

"As we got closer [to the cows] they started to come towards us. Baldrick tried to get out of the way but they started to trample him.

"Brian went in to try to get Baldrick out and the next I knew, Brian was knocked flat. They were milling around and treading on him. He just could not get up."

He added: "I went in to try to rescue Brian but I got booted in the chest. I got trampled for a couple of minutes before I got out. I dragged the little pup with me."

Mr Clarke escaped and called the emergency services, but by the time paramedics arrived it was too late.

Prof Bellhouse, who has a ward named after him at Oxford Children's Hospital, joined Magdalen College in 1957 to read mathematics before he obtained his DPhil in engineering science in 1964.

He was elected an official fellow in engineering science in 1966 and, on his retirement in 2004, he was elected an emeritus fellow.

The East Sussex coroner recorded a verdict of accidental death.

New app allows you to order before you arrive

CUSTOMERS can now order a first round of drinks at a bar or food on arrival thanks to a new app launched in Oxford.

A new free app, Oxford Orders is hoping to sign up as many as 400 businesses including shops, theatres, cafes, bakeries, florists, butchers and restaurants, allowing people in the city to pre-order items for collection or delivery.

The app features pubs such as The Old Tom in St Aldate's, 1855 Wine Bar Bistro, The Bell at Hampton Poyle in Kidlington and The Duke of Cambridge in Little Clarendon Street, along with Cockadoo among others.

It comes just weeks after Uber launched its food delivery service, UberEATS in Oxford.

Deliveroo, another food delivery service launched in Oxford last year.

But Oxford Orders differs from Deliveroo and UberEats as it focuses on pre-ordering, not delivery.

Businesses wishing to join up pay just £2 a month set-up fee.

Bus aims to help floristry blossom again

A BUS designed to bring flower power back to British high streets travelled through Oxford as part of a nationwide tour.

The floristry education bus toured the city aiming to raise awareness of the floristry industry.

The industry says it has become diluted over the last 10 years and that local shops are suffering as the traditional skills involved in the trade are no longer valued as they once were.

It adds consumers could be getting a lower quality product as a result – but the bus aims to change this, as well as help fight back against the big supermarkets.

The campaign is a collaboration between the British Florist Association and Floristmart, an online platform that connects high street florists directly with growers.

Steve France, CEO of Floristmart and board member of the British Florist Association, said: "Floristry is a skilled craft so the mass-produced supermarket bouquets aren't doing our industry any justice.

"The high street is on the decline therefore so are local florists. It's a real loss to our communities. Floristry plays such an important role in key moments of life – not just weddings, funerals and birthdays but also thank you, sorry and goodbyes.

"We want to start a movement that sees more consumers supporting local florists, bringing the industry back to life."

Sign up for self-build plot and have stamp duty paid

NEW plots at self-build development Graven Hill are set to be released this week.

TV presenter and architectural designer Charlie Luxton will join industry experts along with the team from Graven Hill to launch phase 1B at Bicester Technology Studio on Saturday.

The event is designed to give prospective self-builders advice and information about their projects.

Anyone who reserves a plot on the day will get their stamp duty paid by Graven Hill.

Graven Hill managing director Karen Curtin said: "For anyone who is interested in buying a plot this is an absolutely fantastic opportunity. On Saturday with the added incentive of stamp duty being paid, we anticipate a sensational day of sales."

Tickets are free but must be booked in advance via eventbrite.co.uk and search for Graven Hill Phase 1B.

Share your talent at charity's show

By George Welch

DIDCOT'S answer to Simon Cowell will cast his judgemental eye over the best the town has to offer imitating hit TV show Britain s Got Talent.

Andy Baker, the founder of our charity of the year fundraising group Play2Give will be a judge at Willowbrook s Got Talent! due to take centre stage on Saturday November 18.

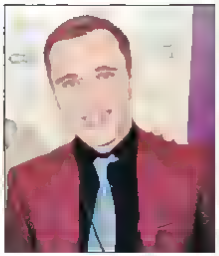
The 29-year-old is calling on the weird and wonderful entertainers of Didcot to step forward and help not just Play2Give but also BBC s Children In Need appeal which takes place the day before.

Andy of Great Western Drive said: "This will be an amusing take on the popular show and should show up the duds and the exceptional.

"Didcot has lots of talent within it, such as those who come from St Birinus School, including Ant Hansen (singer on BBC s ary Dream Will Do in 2007) and Matt Richardson (comedian) who have gone on to achieve TV fame.

"So I know there are lots of the weird, wonderful and wacky awaiting to unleash theirs for this hilarious event.

"And after all everyone loves Pudsey so we hope that both causes will be generously boosted. And I can't wait to be one of the judges – unfortunately Cowell and co were busy!"



Andy Baker is hoping the show will bring lots of talent out of the woodwork later this month

The talent contest forms part of a charity day at Willowbrook Leisure Centre, next to Didcot Town football club on Bowmont Water, put together for Pudsey s annual appeal which helps disadvantaged children and young people across the UK.

Those coming along to watch on the day are asked to donate £2.50.

The event, which takes place at 4.30pm, is free to enter.

To sign up email ddavies@sodl-leisure.co.uk or call the leisure centre on 01235 812058.

Cadets praised for their work

PROMISING new police recruits graduated from a 10-week training programme last week.

Seven new cadets were welcomed at an attestation ceremony last week marking the end of a 10-week training programme.

Having learnt drill, first aid and basic policing skills, the cadets will continue to build on their policing knowledge. They have also taken part in community events in the South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse local policing area including crime reduction initiatives and intelligence gathering.

Acting Chief Inspector, Adrian Hall, said: "The cadets have worked very hard over the summer and their families should be very proud.

"The cadets are a hugely valuable part of our organisation. They have shown they are willing to work exceptionally hard and have been a huge asset to our team."

The cadet scheme aims to provide young people between the ages of 13 and 17 with an opportunity to develop their qualities and skills through a structured programme, and to enhance the relationship between the public and the police.

A vintage experience

FANS of vintage transport can now get the ultimate once-in-a-lifetime experience by flying on old aeroplanes and driving steam trains.

Chinnor Railways has teamed up with Finest Hour experiences to offer a fly-drive package called 'The Watlington Flyer' named after the train which ran until 1957.

People who take part can drive a former GWR steam locomotive and take to the skies over a four-mile route in a Tiger Moth biplane.

Tuition is by highly experienced instructors including pilots, steam locomotive drivers and firemen, who collectively have over a century of experience in their respective fields.

The two organisations have worked together to design a range of fly-drive packages to suit discerning railway and aviation aficionados.

Help stub out illegal tobacco use

By Eva Astreinidou

SNIFFER dogs will play a key part in a major crackdown on illegal tobacco in Oxfordshire.

The county council has launched a campaign to raise awareness of the issue and is asking for the public's help to report and tackle it.

Sniffer dogs Scamp, Phoebe and Yoyo who have already found millions of pounds worth of illegal cigarettes and hand-rolling tobacco across the UK, have been recruited to help out with the latest mission.

The talented mutts are used to find stashes hidden behind fake walls or in unusual locations.

Also on standby are trading standards officers who aim to educate the public about how to spot illegal tobacco, what the dangers are, and how to report sales.

Judith Heathcoat, deputy leader of the county council, said illegal tobacco poses a threat to children because it is sold at pocket money prices by criminals who are not interested in asking for proof of age.

She said: "There is a lot of work being done across the county to tackle illegal tobacco but we need public support to help us."

Illegal tobacco makes it easier for children to start smoking, as it is sold cheaply, and can make communities more attractive to criminals who may have links to organised crime groups.

Far from being a victimless crime, the illicit trade is connected to drug trafficking, money laundering, firearms and other crimes threatening communities and endangering lives.

Jodi Kerman, operations manager of trading standards at Oxfordshire County Council, said: "This is one of our top priorities for action, not only because smoking remains one of the UK's biggest causes of premature death but we also know the availability of cheap, illegal tobacco helps recruit the next generation of smokers and undermines our initiatives to help adults quit smoking."

To report the selling of illegal tobacco visit www.stop-illegal-tobacco.co.uk or call 0300 999 8 999.

Smoke alarm helps woman to safety

A WOMAN was alerted to a fire in a bathroom at her home in Checkendon thanks to a smoke detector.

The Fire Service said the blaze had started in a transformer for a bathroom fan, which had set fire to curtains and towels.

The incident happened on the afternoon of Sunday, October 22.

Incident commander, station manager Marcus Reay said: "The occupier took exactly the right action after discovering the fire. She got out, stayed out and called 999 to get the fire service out.

"There was a lot of hot smoke at a very low level in the part of the house on fire and this could easily have overcome the occupant had she ventured into the affected part of the property – her swift and decisive action ensured the fire service were called without delay and that she did not place herself in danger."

Mamma Mia! Here they go again

WITH winter drawing in what could be better than a trip to the sunshine of the Greek isles?

And if you can't go there let Skopelos come to you when West End hit musical Mamma Mia comes to Oxford's New Theatre this month as part of a UK tour.

Mamma Mia is Judy Craymer's enchanting tale of family and friendship on a Greek island paradise told through ABBA's timeless songs.

To date it has been seen by more than 60 million people worldwide and was made into a hugely popular movie starring Meryl Streep, Julie Walters, Pierce Brosnan and Colin Firth.

Donna runs an independent hotel on the island and is preparing for her daughter's wedding. But bride Sophie has a plan – she secretly invites three men from her mother's past in the hope of finding out which one is her real father and having him escort her down the aisle.

Starring a cast with a very long and impressive string of West End and film credits it promises to have you dancing in the aisles.

Mamma Mia opens on November 14 and runs until November 25.

Tickets are available from the New Theatre box office on George Street by calling 0844 871 3020 or by going to atgtickets.com/oxford.

Ooh, aah – it's fireworks time

The skies over Oxford will come alive with a spectacular fireworks display on Saturday thanks to the Oxford Round Table.

The charitable group is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its annual show in South Park with its familiar 50-metre tall bonfire.

Over the years Oxford Round Table has raised more than £1million for local charities.

Chris Langston, fireworks event director for Oxford Round Table said: "This year's Oxford Fireworks display in South Park will be a very special celebration of 50 years of fun and safe fireworks in the community. We are very proud that since the first display in 1967 we have been able to give over £1m illion to help local charities."

One of the charities helped is SpecialEffect. Nick Streeter of SpecialEffect said: "Donations such as the Oxford Round Table's help us to continue to support many severely disabled people and bring some very real benefits to their everyday life not least an element of freedom and control - not to mention fun - in their otherwise completely dependent lives."

Oxford Round Table also helped Oxford Food Bank to purchase a van to collect and distribute surplus food supplies. Facilities co-ordinator David Kay was delighted saying it enabled them to collect and deliver even more food to local charities."

Oxford Round Table has joined up with Oxford Bus Company to offer a combined park & ride fireworks ticket with shuttles every 10 minutes.

Gates open at 4.30pm, music from 5pm and bonfire lighting at 6.45pm. For full details and tickets go to www.oxfordfireworks.co.uk

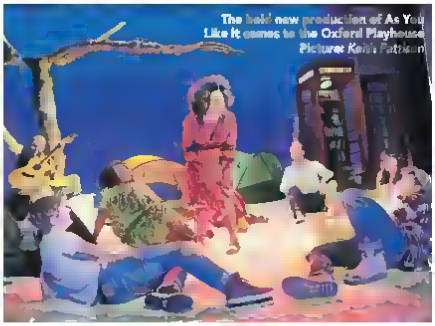
As You Like It but probably not as you know it comedy

By Samantha McGregor



The bold new production of As You Like it comes to the Oxford Playhouse Picture Kelly Pattison

A MAJOR new production of Shakespeare s comedy As You Like It takes to the Oxford stage this month.

Produced by Shared Experience and Theatre by the Lake it will be at the Oxford Playhouse from Tuesday November 14 to Saturday November 18

As You Like It is one of Shakespeare s most popular comedies and has the most witty and wisecracking heroine of them all and has been transformed in a bold new production by Kate Saxon

Set in the modern world of alternative facts and fiercely jealous leaders the young Rosalind and her friend Celia find themselves pawns in a power struggle

Together they decide to flee the city and its politics for the forest where they discover a countryside wonderland of peace and harmony

Disguised as a boy Rosalind meets Orlando and amidst the intoxicating atmosphere of the forest, counsels him in the art of love.

But with all the deception can the characters have a happy ending?

Jessica Hayles who was in the Snow Queen at Bristol Old Vic Theatre..plays Rosalind Nathan Hamilton, who has performed at the Theatre Royal Stratford East, is Orlando and Layo-Christina Akinlude is Celia she appeared in The Taming of the Shrew at Shakespeare s Globe

Known for their vivid and energetic theatricality Shared Experience have pioneered a thrillingly distinctive performance style that celebrates the union of physical and text-based theatre.

Shakespeare is believed to have written As You Like It in 1599 but it was not published until 1623

Shakespeare s original version was set in France and the Forest of Arden where most of the play is set

Tickets for As You Like It at Oxford Playhouse start at £10 and are available from the ticket office on 01865 305305 or book online at www.oxfordplayhouse.com

Moments in time with Whitney

LEGENDARY singer Whitney Houston s music lives on in a captivating new theatre show

Whitney - Queen of the Night is performed by rising West End star and Brit School Champion Shanice Smith.

She takes to the New Theatre stage for one night only Thursday, November 9, as a celebration of the music and life of the great Whitney Houston.

This award-winning production features a sensational line-up of musicians and artistes while Shanice takes the audience on a rollercoaster ride through three decades of Houston s classic hits

The show includes the hit tunes I Wanna Dance With Somebody One Moment In Time I'm Every Woman My Love is Yont Love So Emotional Baby Run to You, Saving All My Love, I Will Always Love Yon and many more

During her career Whitney Houston sold more than 200-million records worldwide and made her acting debut as Rachel in the hugely popular 1992 film The Bodyguard.

She also sang the film s lead song I Will Always Love Yon which was given a Grammy Award for record of the year

Whitney died in 2012 aged just 48.

Are you ready for a loud night with Bloody Knees?

By Samantha McGregor

ROCK band Bloody Knees are set to play Oxford on Friday and have warned their set will be "loud".

Made up of Sam Conway, Bradley Griffiths, Christian Wilkes and Tom Wilkes, the four-piece hail from Cambridge and met while they were at primary school, but it wasn't until university that the band formed.

Ahead of the gig at The Library Pub in Cowley Road, Bradley took time out to chat.

Bloody Knees began in 2011 after Bradley made some demo tapes whilst in his bedroom at university and sent them "to the boys".

They liked them and the band was born – although at that point they were nameless.

Bradley said: "I was skating to the Co-Op to pick up a four pack of beer one night when I was writing the first few songs.

"On the way home I absolutely stacked it in front of a load of girls. Took a chunk out of my knee as thick as bacon.

"Lot of blood. So yeah, I had Bloody Knees. I had these songs, I didn't have a name for the project so Bloody Knees it was.

The band have been performing gigs around the UK, including Oxfordshire, and recently launched their new EP Maybe It's Easy.

Bradley said: "We have played Oxford a couple of times. We've played the O2 academy with Wolf Alice before and that was fun.

"We also played Truck Festival a couple of times which we absolutely love. One of my favourite UK festivals by far."

Of the gig, he added: "The Oxford gig is sold out which is amazing. We can't wait. It's gonna be loud and energetic. It'll be one to remember, that's for sure."

For more information about the band check out Bloody Knees on Facebook.

You won't be able to take your eyes off Jersey Boys

THE Tony, Olivier and Grammy Award-winning musical Jersey Boys is set to return to Oxford next year.

The New Theatre have announced it will be the Christmas show for 2018, running from December 17 until January 5, 2019.

Jersey Boys is the remarkable true story of Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons and their rise to stardom from the wrong side of the tracks.

These four boys from New Jersey became one of the most successful bands in pop history, were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame and sold 175 million records worldwide, all before they turned 30.

The show is packed with their hits including Beggin', Sherry, Walk Like A Man, December, 1963 (Oh What a Night), Big Girls Don't Cry, My Eyes Adored You, Let's Hang On (To What We've Got), Bye Bye Baby, Can't Take My Eyes Off You, Working My Way Back to You, Fallen Angel, Rag Doll and Who Loves You.

The cast includes Michael Watson will be playing Frankie Valli, Simon Bailey will be Tommy DeVito, Declan Egan will be Bob Gaudio and Lewis Griffiths will be Nick Massi, all of whom have previously performed in the show.

Tickets for the Oxford dates are due to go on sale soon.

Chance meeting brings Brix and Steve to Cellar

BRIX & the Extricated are set to play at Oxford's Cellar on Saturday, as part of a UK tour promoting their new album Part 2.

Brix Smith-Start and Steve Hanley, both previously involved with the Fall, came together by accident three years ago.

Both felt their musical careers were over, until a chance meeting changed that.

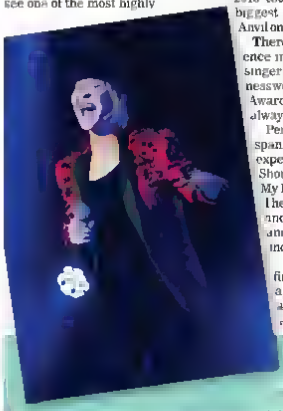
Competition

WIN tickets to see Lulu at The Anvil!

WE always try to bring you an exciting competition, but this week we think we may have got the best one yet.

After some hard negotiating with the lovely folk at The Anvil we have managed to get two pairs of tickets to see one of the most highly acclaimed singers that this country has produced – Lulu!



Following on from her smash hit 2016 tour Lulu returns with her biggest tour yet and comes to The Anvil on Friday 24 November at 7.30.

There is one overriding influence in the life of this acclaimed singer songwriter actress businesswoman, Grammy and Novello Award nominee and that is it has always been All About the Music.

Performing songs from a career spanning over 50 years fans can expect to hear huge hits such as Shout, To Sir With Love, Relight My Fire and The Man Who Sold The World, as well as new songs and songs that have influenced and guided her throughout her incredible career.

Lulu says "I toured for the first time in 15 years in 2015 and haven't stopped since. I absolutely love playing live and can't wait to be out on the road again performing the music that I have shared with you throughout my career... it has always been all about the music... so please come and join me"

Tickets are priced at £41 (includes £2 booking fee). For more details or for tickets call 01256 844244 or visit anvilarts.org.uk

Closing date Sunday, November 19, 2017

Win tickets!

As mentioned above we have two pairs of tickets to give away and to be in with a chance of winning one all you have to do is answer the following simple question.

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Get ready for Autumn

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all. Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system

It's been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people's living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards. Recently it's been more "celebrity mock out" than celebrity make-over as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby. In this time I've learnt quite a lot about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience.

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from...ce instructed from a variety of materials. Each has its own attributes and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years. Colourfence. For quality, value, longevity, aesthetic design, this fencing system ticks all the boxes. Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view Colourfence is the Rolls Royce of fencing – just without the exclusive price tag. What's more, it's guaranteed to stay in place in up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team.

Gardeners' Questions

Q Wooden fence panels just don't seem to last - is there a storm resistant alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under cyclonic conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 130mph. Unlike your wooden fence– once professionally installed– Colourfence really will stay up.

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with - nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long

A Treating your fence is a thankless and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Wood simply wants to rot. Colourfence offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep it looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!†

Colourfence: The ultimate garden fence?

For many Colourfence is perhaps the ultimate choice. For the last 15 years it's been widely used across the UK and has steadily gained a reputation for its quality. By using the highest specification Colorbond steel in the fence structure itself, complemented by the highest level of customer service from accredited Franchisees, Colourfence is now regarded by many as the premier fencing solution in the market. Immune to the rot and resistant to the weather that so quickly effects wooden fences, Colourfence has none of the drawbacks of wood - plenty of additional benefits and what's more it's better value!

Head into Autumn - with COLOURFENCE

The only garden fence you will ever need!

Every gardener knows that it pays to plan ahead. If you are one of the thousands of people who watched helpless, as winter winds battered their garden, it will not be a surprise that garden fences are almost always the first casualty. Whether you have previously patched, painted or simply prayed to keep your fence going, there's no escaping the fact that timber fences will always fall victim to the weather. With Colourfence you can put your garden straight once and for all. Colourfence is scientifically tested and cyclonically rated to ensure when professionally installed, it can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph. Once it's up – it stays up and is guaranteed to look good year after year. Safe, extra secure and hassle free – you will NEVER need to paint it, treat it or patch it. An occasional hose down will be all you need do to keep it in top condition for years to come. In fact the system is so durable that Colourfence will guarantee† their fencing to last at least 25 years. Available in a range of colours to suit any garden, with or without decorative trellis, the highly skilled installation team make short work of their dramatic transformations. Your sad old fence will be efficiently cleared and replaced, leaving you to get back to enjoying your rejuvenated garden. Pricing is just as straightforward and equally attractive. Starting costs are in line with inferior timber systems but with no annual treatments required, Colourfence saves you time and money each and every year. Their aim is your peace of mind. With a 25 year guarantee† Colourfence speaks for itself and promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

COLOUR FENCE

A good time to be a girl

Said our CEO, Cheryl Giovannoni, speaking to the Girls Day School Trust

Whilst there is continual media coverage of anxious, unhappy teenagers, there are also a vast majority of girls who are far stronger, resilient, opinionated, and feisty than they are given credit for. That can be incredibly empowering for a girls' school, and Oxford High is relishing the challenge of how to prepare our students for the wider world, for their roles as future leaders and as happy individuals.

To do this requires continual innovation and understanding of the ways girls learn. Our 360 Programme for Sixth Form offers a very different approach to academic achievement, developing leadership, and nurturing self-belief. This academic year, we launch our very own MOOC in partnership with FutureLearn and the GDST. This enhances the Perspectives strand of the 360 focusing on 'me, my community and my world' and includes life skills such as employability, personal finance and networking delivered via a tech platform that reflects the digital age our students inhabit.

We believe every girl who is bright and keen should have the opportunity to fulfil her potential regardless of financial circumstances. Almost one in five of pupils at GDST schools receives a bursary or scholarship to help towards fees and our long-standing relationship with the HSBC Scholarship Programme provides life-changing bursary funding for girls entering OHS from the state sector.

If you are interested in studying at Oxford High, contact us now on Tel: 01865 318500 or Email: admissions@oxf.gdst.net

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Paul King Head of April King Legal

1. Care Cost Fees

A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life their assets will be means-tested by the local authority to help pay for these services This goes back to the Community Care Act 1990, which came into force in 1993.

If someone requires social care in later life the local authority will look to use the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £14,250 when the local authority will take over the fees

Paul knows this all too well after experiencing this personally "My own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 92 My grandfather had died many years earlier and left everything to her

When she needed care in the last six years of her life, because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the estate were counted in the local authority's means test.

Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the local authority get it all?

Just as she died she had gone down to that lower limit of £14,250 – and that's all that her children inherited "

There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being used like this The main one is that a parent should simply sign their house over to the children now so it won t be taken into consideration for means testing That's just not true

Local authorities will actually look to see if you've deliberately deprived' yourself of an asset by giving property away, going back over any period in time

Sometimes people think if the gift is made seven years prior then the house is safe.

This is not so as the seven-year rule only applies to Inheritance Tax and not local authority care.

The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the first place.

Paul continues: "What my grandfather could have done is leave his half of the house in trust to his children stating that they couldn't have it while his wife my grandmother, was still alive We call these Property Trust Wills

If my grandfather had left his half of the house in trust to the children then when my grandmother subsequently received care in her later life she would have only been means tested on her own half of the house but my grandfather's half would have been safe

Why should he have to contribute his half when he didn't receive any care?

The important factor is that couples need to act in advance Once one party dies or loses mental capacity through a stroke for example they are no longer in a position to do this legitimate and straightforward type of planning

It is therefore important for couples to act now even if they may not foresee care fees being an issue "

Paul goes on to explain a further important point Most clients he sees are surprised to learn that remarriage usually cancels a will and makes the new spouse next in line to inherit, ahead of their own children!

Protecting your half of the house in this way he suggests, ensures that your children ultimately inherit when the survivor dies.

"Had my grandmother remarried after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed sideways out of the family " says Paul.

It a another important reason for home-owning couples to upgrade to a Property Trust Will.

2. Bloodline Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made standard "mirror wills" with other firms before approaching the firm. A mirror will is when a couple leave everything to each other on the first death, then to the children when the second partner dies But modern family life toeans these type of wills leave a lot to chance

Explains Paul. "If I have a mirror will leaving everything to my wife and she remarries or goes into care after my death then either the new husband or the local authority are likely to inherit most if not all of my estate ahead of my children

Even if my children are named in my mirror will it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything

Once again, this is because a remarriage would cancel the will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband next-of-kin. This often comes as a big shock to my clients who had perhaps thought that all was in order and that the family bloodline would one day inherit.

The same is true for thinking that their children and/or grandchildren will one day benefit under a mirror will If any of your children should die leaving everything to their husband or wife and that son-in-law or daughter-in-law should then remarry then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance

Worse still, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work!

I've experienced this in my own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences or heard of someone who has Bloodline trusts will give greater protection to your children "

Paul continues: "These things can be avoided by having a bloodline trusts will Under these types of wills your children have complete control and access to the inheritance they receive from you but give added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life. The wording in these wills states that any money left over on their demise must pass to any children born of them – your grandchildren."

3. Lasting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that, because they have made a will their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness, stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive.

"Everyone should actually have two documents – a will that deals with their estate on death, and a lasting power of attorney that deals with their estate during their lifetime " he says.

The lasting power of attorney is a relatively new introduction and is divided into two parts – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare In many ways it s similar to a passport, a document that s registered now and one which can be physically handed to the attorneys should the need arise It allows the attorneys perhaps the children to deal with banks and pension companies etc should their parent become incapacitated, but also to deal with matters such as where the parent should be living and how they receive care. Your attorneys, again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently and April King advises on the various options available

Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees sight of a lasting power of attorney document

Having a lasting power of attorney removes the burden on children should ill-health happen further down the line It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a parent s lifetime and ceases on death. Crucially you have to complete a lasting power of attorney while they are still in good mental health.

If someone becomes ill through say a stroke or dementia this option is lost and the family would have to apply for a order from the Court of Protection – a drawn out and expensive process It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and remove any future burden from the family

Once again, all adults should be thinking of this particularly where there are children or a business involved It s not just something to think about when you get older that s the challenge for us

People think 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a power of attorney?"

But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance Paul adds "The next part is to appoint the attorneys your children. Don't forget, your children can be the executors of your will and attorneys as well The lasting power of attorney remains in place until you die unless you want to cancel it. Once it's registered you don't have to worry if you then develop some debilitating illness. A burden has been removed from the family at an already difficult time."

Hearing aids can do more than improve your hearing.

Following a survey carried out in 2015 by Anovum (a market research company) on 1325 hearing impaired people (605 hearing aid wearers and 720 not wearing hearing aids) The survey reports that hearing aids not only improve capabilities of hearing well but also improved the general health of hearing aid wearers compared to hearing impaired people who do not wear a hearing aid. Hearing aid users are less likely to think they have the symptoms of dementia, feel less physically and mentally exhausted, sleep better and are less likely to suffer from depression.

The survey confirms what some Audiologists have suspected for some time, that hearing aids are not only good for correcting hearing loss but in fact contribute to better and more active lives, better quality of life, and better overall health.

For the hearing impaired workers who wear a hearing aid it is reported that their hearing aids are useful for their job and that the hearing aids also increase the chance of them getting promoted, being in the right job and getting more salary compared to those hearing impaired people who have not obtained hearing aids

The full report can be found at EuroTrak UK 2015 – ehima

A new hearing system is just the beginning and a hearing aid system is only as good as the audiologist prescribing and programming it.

At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare we offer the best bespoke hearing aid systems virtually unnoticeable fitting comfortably into your ear.

Keith will help you every step of the way whilst you adjust to your new hearing ability, for some this takes months for others a matter of a few weeks but Keith is always on hand to answer questions or give advice on getting the best from your system. The last thing he wants (as is often the case when insufficient aftercare is available) is for your hearing aids to end up in the back of a drawer somewhere, unused because you felt that nothing else could be done to rectify any programming or rehabilitation problems.

Keith wants to know if you have any concerns about your hearing, no matter how big or small, so that you and he can work together to achieve the best result.

Skoda Citigo – it's such a scream

By Tony Yates

SKODA has always put value for money at the forefront of every thing they do, and in keeping with that, the Skoda Citigo is a small value for money, city friendly hatchback that is actually more sophisticated than most of its rivals and at a price that most of us looking for a small family car can easily afford.

Power and Efficiency

The Citigo I had on test had been fitted with a 1.0 MPi 60PS engine and is one of the best non turbo units I have come across in recent years

Fuel consumption is around the 60mpg if you drive it without pushing too hard, and flat out you can expect to achieve a max speed of around 100mph and 0-62 time of around 14sec

I know what you are all thinking though – is it slow? Well actually it nips around really well and it does not feel underpowered at all.

On the Road

The little Citigo is a scream – it's easy to drive and feels brilliant for such a small car, but you do need to remember this is not a race car. It's an eco warrior that was designed to save you money as well as look good

As for the handling – I would give it five stars because it's as good as the competition when the road gets twisty. Also it's actually very quiet and quite refined. While the ride is a little bouncy it's pretty decent really thanks mainly to Skoda doing a pretty good job on the suspension setup

Safety and Technology

The safety side of the Citigo is impressive too – with standard equipment like anti-lock braking, driver's and front passenger's airbags and electronic stability control. As with all Skodas the interior is a little bland – but functional – but I like the body coloured dash panel and the centre speedo which gives it a better feel all round. The seats are very good and hold you firm.

There is also an array of kit such as 15-inch auriga black alloy wheels electric front windows, front fog lamps, manual air-conditioning, AM/FM radio including colour display with aux in and SD card, USB ports, six speakers and Bluetooth, rear seat backrest split 60/40, remote central locking and sunset glass

To Sum Up

It's a great little car for doing the school run and for all the times when you need to nip into town to do a little retail therapy

There is no doubt in my mind that Citigo will live with you for a very long time and you will instantly replace it with another when the time is right.

To be honest it's like your secret little friend that will make you feel happy every time you turn the key to go off on another little adventure. Price from £10,850 OTR.

Reliability issues cost points

By George Welch

F1 - Renault

RENAULT have admitted they were too aggressive in their approach to balancing engine performance with reliability after a string of failures in the Mexican Grand Prix.

After an encouraging start, fortunes quickly turned for both drivers.

And after gaining a position at the start of the race and running as high as fourth, an ERS problem forced Nico Hulkenberg into retirement for safety reasons

Carlos Sainz had an equally good start, moving up a position to seventh, but gotted on lap two after a high-speed spin and later retired from 17th with a mechanical issue.

The pointless weekend meant the Enstone-based team lost points in the race for fifth.

Hülkenberg made his feelings on reliability clear: "It was a very frustrating race, I'm disappointed.

"We were doing well and a very good result slipped through our fingers. We have work to do on reliability because we lost some potential points today"

Managing director Cyril Abiteboul admitted his firm failed to prepare well enough for the effect of the high altitude in Mexico on the engine.

He said: "Both Nico's retirement and one of our partner team's car [Red Bull's Daniel Ricciardo] is a reminder that reliability remains an issue and the consequences weigh heavily on us and our customer teams.

"We've made an error in the judgement in our preparation in the way we have been trying to balance performance versus reliability

"We had performance, qualifying was very good for many of the different Renault-powered cars. However the balance between performance and reliability was not good."

F1 - Williams

THE frustrating weekend was compounded as Williams stretched the gap between the teams by eight points.

Felipe Massa was overtaken late on by championship winner Lewis Hamilton to slip out the points but Lance Stroll did the business for the Grove-based team by finishing sixth.

The Canadian started 12th and capitalised on the early misfortune of others to run inside the top 10, and that's where he stayed.

Stroll, who turned 19 on the day of the race, described the result as "a great birthday present"

Magnussen hails the 'perfect race' after finishing eighth

F1 - Haas

AFTER struggling to find speed and grip throughout practice and qualifying sessions Haas rallied to score a points-paying finish for the 11th time this season in Mexico City

Thanks to an eighth-place drive by Kevin Magnussen, the Banbury-based outfit are now one point behind seventh-placed Renault who suffered two retirements in Mexico.

The Dane qualified a disappointing 18th but received an early boost when he was bumped up to 14th due to grid penalties by others ahead of him.

Things got even better for Magnussen, moving up the field when others were forced to pit in the aftermath of a first corner dustup between Lewis Hamilton and Sebastian Vettel

The 25-year-old built up a substantial gap on challenger Fernando Alonso and managed to cling on to eighth, despite the late close attention of Hamilton, on his way to the title of world champion.

Kevin Magnussen was delighted with his eighth placed finish in Mexico
Picture Haas F1

The final four laps were scintillating. Magnussen extracted everything available from his Haas to hold off Hamilton and cross the stripe in eighth and earn his fifth top 10 of the season.

It wasn't to be for team-mate Romain Grosjean who finished 15th.

However the result clearly felt good for Magnussen.

He said "That was like a victory It was incredible, and a great way to reward everyone for their hard work.

' It was a perfect race It couldn't have gone better

"We could easily have given up and just thrown the towel into the ring [after such a poor qualifying] – it was a very tough day for us all."

Eagles soar to back-to-back wins

Basketball

AN excellent all-round performance from Abingdon Eagles U16s swept aside MK Trojans II to record back to-back division East II wins.

Abingdon led from the start and utilised their home advantage to win 91 49

The failure of the MK Trojans to sink their baskets and excellent defensive play from the Eagles who sit in third, meant the result was never in doubt

Oxford City Hoops remain rooted to the bottom of the table with four defeats from four They last 86-26 at home to Milton Keynes Trojans on Saturday

There was more success for Abingdon's U14s who are up to second in Midlands West after beating Birmingham Rockets 76-59

Playing on their home court at Abingdon & Witney College the youngsters had a more difficult than expected game against but kept up the pressure to triumph and win their third game in four matches.

Malachi Easton (12, Langtree School Reading) was top scorer with 18 points, including three spectacular 3s, while Harry Milbank (12, St Birinus Didcot) scored an important hoop to keep the Eagles ahead.

Oxford City Hoops U14s remain mid-table after losing 84-34 to Northamptonshire Titans at Oxford Brookes Centre for Sport.

Delighted to be going in the right direction

MotoGP

BRADLEY Smith had to settle for 12th place after making an exceptional start to the Malaysian MotoGP at Sepang.

The Forest Hill rider, who qualified 16th on the grid, forced himself through the fields to sixth place in the wet conditions but fell back and had to settle for four points

Smith is just happy to be performing at a level he believes he should be at following a successful last few weeks.

The Red Bull KTM Factory Racing rider said: "I wasn't quite able to make the final steps to defend the great start as the track didn't quite dry out but just got 'less wet'

"I was as close to the winner in terms of time today as I have been in the wet so we're going in the right direction for that kind of set up for the coming races

"It's been a great three weeks of racing and I've really enjoyed getting back into a normal place that I believe I should be."

Smith's team-mate Pol Espargaro clinched 11th spot to secure Red Bull KTM's seventh top-10 finish of the season.

The MotoGP teams now have one final race of the season in two weeks time in Valencia Spain.

Oxford to merge with Bristol side

Rugby League

OXFORD RL will merge with University of Gloucestershire All Golds to create a new club in Bristol from the 2019 season.

In an announcement made by the Rugby Football League last week, it was confirmed that neither club would compete in the 2018 competition to focus on the new Bristol Rugby League project.

This brings an end to five years of competitive rugby league in Oxfordshire.

Discussions have been ongoing for a number of months but any bid to join the competition in 2019 would require 'significant backing' and be subject to RFL board approval.

However the RFL confirmed in a statement that rugby league would "continue to have a presence" in Oxford "with community clubs and foundations remaining in place"

In a club statement, Oxford RL blamed changing playing and financial landscapes since 2012 as the main factor behind the merger

The statement continued: "While both teams have produced players that have progressed to Championship and Super League squads along with notable wins over heartland teams, both struggle to be consistently competitive.

"The initial mission was to bring rugby league to the region and both clubs have done a great deal to achieve that goal It is important to ensure that the game continues and the pooling of resources of both clubs made good sense to continue in this mission."

Thame tame Town with 5-0 win

By George Welch

FA Trophy

THAME United have been rewarded with another home tie after their big FA Trophy win.

Mark West's side, fresh from smashing Wimborne Town 5-0 on Saturday have been drawn against Worthing in the second qualifying round on November 11

Banbury United are also through but needed Tuesday's replay to overcome Tiverton Town and set up an away tie against fellow Evo-Stik South Premier outfit Farnborough.

However, Kidlington won't be progressing following their 4-1 defeat to Slough Town at Yarnton Road

Thame cruised into the next round in a game that was tied up shortly before half time

A Lynton Goss hat-trick (8, 12 & 28 minutes) and Dan West (11) and Harry Mepham (37) goals inflicted the collateral damage in a massacre of a first half.

They now face Worthing who play a level above in the Bostik League Premier, although they are bottom

Ten-man Banbury squeezed into the next round after beating Tiverton Town 3-2 after extra time at the Banbury Plant Hire Community Stadium on Tuesday

The Puritans went 1-0 up early on thanks to Charlie Hawtin's first for the club but fell behind following Ravi Shamsi's red card

Hawtin equalised with seven minutes to go before Conor McDonagh snatched the winner with a fine strike in extra time

United failed to do the job on Saturday when they threw away a 2-0 half time lead to draw 2-2 in Devon.

Shamsi (15) and Jefferson Louis (45) put United 2-0 up but Mike Ford's side suffered a second half onslaught, with Owen Howe and Callum Hall dragging Tiverton back into it and earning the replay

Ravi Shamsi scored Banbury's first goal on Saturday but was sent off in Tuesday's replay Picture sportshots.org.uk

But Banbury did what they needed to do on Tuesday to set up a penultimate qualifying tie against Farnborough

A Matt Lench treble helped Slough to a comfortable 4-1 win over Kidlington, who suffered defeat for the first time in eight games.

Anaclet Odhiambo made it 2-1 with 20 minutes remaining before Slough scored their final two goals in the final six minutes

Story of the season for City – close but not close enough

Oxford City

WHEN Oxford City beat Bognor Regis Town to progress to the FA Cup first round proper manager Mark Jones called on his players to focus on the two 'very important' league games beforehand.

Two weeks later and it's been more of the same for the City gaffer who's seen his side slip further into trouble.

A 2-0 defeat at Hemel Hempstead Town and a 1-1 draw with fellow strugglers Concord Rangers reaped a solitary point from the two games.

The Hoops, second bottom, were close to securing their first league win since mid-August against Concord at Court Place Farm. Rob Sinclair gave Oxford the lead on the hour but, with four minutes remaining, Concord's Amos Nasha pounced on a loose ball for an easy tap in.

The Beach Boys should have gone on to win it too – only an exceptional stop from Jack Stevens ensured the points were shared and City picked up something from the two games.

Jones said afterwards: "I felt we were going to hold on for the win. We were close again but didn't quite do it – perhaps that sums us up this season?"

City travel to League Two Colchester United on Saturday for the first round of the FA Cup.

Jones added. "It's a bit of a free hit for us. I don't think anybody's expecting us to go there and win but we'll go there and see what happens."

Jack Stevens makes a spectacular save to save a point for Oxford City

Freds victorious at league leaders

Hellenic round up

WANTAGE Town produced the result of the season so far to end Highworth Town's 100 per cent league record with a rousing 4-2 win at the league leaders.

A brace from Jack Dunnall (23 & 80 minutes) and second half strikes from Jim Glover (47) and Steve Robertson (85) secured the Freds 12th win in 14 games in all competitions.

The Worthians were in the game at 2-2 but were sunk with two breakaway goals in the final 10 minutes.

Jon Davoile (4) and Ash Edenborough (63) netted for the home side but couldn't prevent Highworth a first dropped points this season.

Abingdon United's turgid winless league run was extended to 10 matches with a 3-2 defeat at Longlevens

United equalised twice through Cian McCormack (69) Tom Butler (77) but were beaten by a Jack Skilcar winner five minutes from time

And on Tuesday Oxford City Nomads recorded their third successive victory with a 3-1 home win over Burnham.

Wantage travel to bottom club Fairford Town while Abingdon (16th) visit Lydney Town (15th) on Saturday Nomads (12th) play at Tuffley Rovers (13th) tomorrow (Friday)

Didcot derailed as winning run comes to an end

Evo Stik round up

DIDCOT Town remain in the Evo-Stik South West play-offs despite their four match winning run coming to an end with a 2-1 defeat at AFC Totton on Saturday

Things looked ominous very quickly for the Railwaymen who were 2-0 down within 25 minutes

Tony Lee gave the hosts the lead and Diddy fell further behind on 25 minutes when Alfy Humphries scored from close range.

Andy Ballard's men gave themselves hope shortly after half time when Felipe Barcelos continued his rich goalscoring form with his fourth in four games on 48 minutes

Town, who slipped to sixth but remain in the play-offs pushed for an equaliser but Totton held out

Kidlington extended their unbeaten league run to seven games with a 3-3 draw at Barnstaple Town on Tuesday

The evening got off to a bad start in North Devon as Anaclet Odhiambo missed a 12th minute penalty – and eight minutes later the Greens were 2-0 down.

Darius Brown pulled a goal back on 34 minutes but Barnstaple restored their two-goal cushion with a third goal on the cusp of half time.

Kiddy rolled up their sleeves in the second half to rescue a point in an entertaining contest

Anaclet Odhiambo pulled a goal back shortly after the restart and Lewis Coyle grabbed the equaliser just after the hour

Didcot welcome league leaders Taunton Town and Kidlington (11th) entertain Diddy's victors AFC Totton (8th) on Saturday

There was no league action for North Leigh or Thame United last week, but they host Bideford (5th) and travel to Aylesbury (16th) respectively on Saturday

Stars out shine Buffalo netting 18 goals

Ice hockey

OXFORD City Stars mauled Basingstoke Buffalo 18-1 as their visitor's trip to Oxpens Road on Sunday turned into a pre-Halloween horror show

The Stars somehow shone even brighter and built on the 14-2 win in the previous fixture the week before, meaning Oxford slotted a scary 32 goals past the Buffalo defence in two games.

Darren Elliot netted his second hat-trick in seven days while Dax Hedges, Dominic Hopkins, Kamul Kinkor, Mike Whillock, Joshua Oliver and Joshua Florey all scored braces.

Other strikes came from Stewart Tait, Matthew Lawday and Conor Redmond as Stars shot to second in the NIHL2 table and took their goalscoring tally to 46 in three games

Connor Hutchinson got the only goal of the game for Stoke who are now in 10th place following a forgettable couple of weeks

Hutchinson struck in the 34th minute – when his side were already 11 goals down. The most destructive period of the game for Basingstoke was the first period when they found themselves 8-0 down in 18 minutes.

Hedges, Redmond, Whillock, Kinkor and Oliver struck in the first 11 minutes before Florey, Hopkins and Lawday added three goals in three minutes.

The Stars travel to leaders Peterborough Phantoms on Sunday for a top-of-the-table clash.

Seb really is Keen-on playing football game

By George Welch

OXFORD United have won the Champions League for the sixth time in a row – at least they have in a parallel universe of a certain football manager

Seb Keenan, from Oxford, has entered the Guinness World Records for the longest ever game of Football Manager

The 26-year-old has devoted a remarkable six months of his life to play 170 seasons on the highly addictive Football Manager 2010

In that time United fan Keenan, who started the game as a first year student at Newcastle University in 2010 has won multiple Champions League titles and had the Barcelona and Real Madrid stadiums named after him.

Speaking to MailOnline about his record-breaking feat he said: "It feels great. Friends have dubbed it the 'greatest achievement any of us will ever have' screams of legend have been heard as t enter the office and the response from Oxford United has been particularly pleasing.

"I'm hoping to get a walk-on and half-time announcement, if nothing else

"My dad is very proud...it's probably quite concerning as he's said it's the best thing I am going to be able to achieve. It's amazing to think you've achieved something no one else has bettered."

Six months of Seb Keenan's life has been spent playing Football Manager 2010 earning a Guinness World Record

Keenan admitted to playing seven hours a day while at university and counts his finest successes as winning Champions League six times with his hometown club Oxford.

He only stopped playing for a significant amount of time when he had a girlfriend.

He added. "To have played for so long without taking a break...I would say I'm pretty addicted to the game."

The English literature graduate now plays for an hour or so after work and at the weekends and confessed. "I've definitely been up at night thinking about who to buy and what shape my team is going to take the next season."

Keenan would now be 190 years old in the game – and he is certain to make it to at least 200 years old.

Goalie's apology for being caught short in match

FORMER Oxford United goalkeeper Max Crocombe has apologised after he was sent off for urinating during Salford City's win on Saturday

The 24-year-old stopper who was released by United in the summer of 2016, was dismissed three minutes from time in his side's 2-1 win at Bradford Park Avenue.

He said: "I'd like to sincerely apologise for the incident. I was in a very uncomfortable position and made an error in judgement which spoiled a great win.

"My intention was never to offend anyone and I'd like to apologise to both clubs and both sets of supporters and it won't happen again."

Max Crocombe in his Oxford United days

It has also been reported that a supporter has reported the New Zealander to police

Crocombe came through the U's youth set-up and made six appearances for the first team.

Fans warned about smoke bombs

OXFORD United have reminded fans that pyrotechnics and smoke bombs are illegal and will not be tolerated at the club

The warning comes before Bonfire Night and after two fans were identified after being caught with or set off smoke bombs at matches this season.

An unnamed supporter caught carrying three smoke bombs at Peterborough United in September has been given a three-year football banning order

A 16 year-old who let off a smoke bomb at MK Dons at the start of September has also been identified and is currently being dealt with through the legal system.

The club is considering both incidents with an eye to further club specific bans.

Smoke bombs have also been set off at the Kassam Stadium this season.

Mowatt and Payne can play in FA Cup

OXFORD United have received an FA Cup boost with the news that both Alex Mowatt and Jack Payne will be eligible to play for the U's

United take on Port Vale tomorrow night (Friday) in the Emirates FA Cup first round.

The club have received permission from both Barnsley and Huddersfield that the on-loan pair can play for the Yellows at Vale Park.

Cash-only tickets will be available on the day at no extra cost from the away sales kiosk situated outside the away stand, which will be open from 6pm.

Late show spoils party for United women

OUFCW

FORMER Oxford United Women striker Ini Umotong scored against her ex-teammates as her Brighton & Hove Albion Women side came from behind to draw 2-2 on Sunday

The striker gave the Seagulls the lead at Court Place Farm with a goal just before the hour

The U's hit back with goals from Chloe Chivers (64 minutes) and Tasme Oliver (71) to take the lead but Sophie Perry grabbed an equaliser for the visitors five minutes from time

Unbeaten Oxford played some neat stuff but there were big chances for both teams in an end-to-end first half.

Oliver and Emily Allen went close for the U's while at the other end, Fliss Gibbons should have put the away side in front

Umotong connected with a free-kick to give Brighton the lead on 56 minutes but Chivers equalised with a composed finish and Oliver smashed into the top corner to turn the match on its head.

China Chilvers scored Oxford's equaliser Picture: OUFCW

However the U's failed to hold out and Perry curled a fantastic free kick into the back of the net to rescue a point.

Oxford fourth after four matches, welcome Manchester City Women in the FA WSL Continental Tyres Cup tonight (Thursday)

They return to league action with a trip Millwall Lionesses on November 11

Ticket prices reduced for Checkatrade

PRICES have been reduced for Oxford United's final group game in the Checkatrade Trophy when MK Dons come to town on Tuesday

Entry for adults has been reduced to £10 while concessions (over 65/student/ under 21) can pay £5 Under sevens can watch their team for £1

The game sees the U's, second placed in Southern Group G, looking to progress to the knockout stages after a win at Stevenage and a draw at home to Brighton and Hove Albion's academy side.

The Yellows are on the hunt this season for a third successive Wembley final appearance in the competition

A draw would see United progress

Cods-walloped!

U's hit with two goals in last five minutes

Fleetwood Town 2
Bobby Grant 88 Jordy Hiwula 90+3

Oxford United 0
Attendance: 3,261 (609 away)

OXFORD United's dismal record against Fleetwood continued with a 2-0 defeat in the north west although boss Pep Clotet reckoned the result was unkind on his U's side

Bobby Grant marked his 100th appearance for the Cod Army with an 88th minute goal before assisting Jordy Hiwula for a goal deep into injury time and a more flattering result

The defeat sealed a sixth loss in seven meetings with Town.

But it wasn't a fair reflection on the game in Clotet's mind with the U's dominant in the first half–more adaptable to the swirling Highbury winds

"Football hasn't been fair to us. You have to focus the whole game and these things happen," Clotet said, reflecting on the harsh scoreline.

"The opposition managed to get a set play [late on] and score a goal. This is very difficult [to take] because we've had a very good game until this point

"We kept working very hard, we put in a very good display and we controlled the game. Everybody would have been very happy with a draw"

The Spaniard added. "Despite the wind and the bad conditions my team put on a very good footballing display"

Wes Thomas had the best chance of the first half but the left hand of Alex Cairns denied the U's striker his sixth goal of the season.

Jack Payne sheed an effort wide just before the break but Fleetwood found their feet in the second half with Devante Cole and Ashley Hunter testing United stopper Simon Eastwood.

Thomas wasted another good chance before Grant was given the freedom of Highbury to fire home the opener two minutes from time.

He then turned provider when Town caught United on the counter and Hiwula flicked in Fleetwood's second

Oxford who slipped three places to 10th in the League One table with the defeat, turn their attention to the FA Cup with a trip to Port Vale tomorrow (Friday) night

Clotet's men then fare MK Dons in the final Checkatrade Trophy group match at the Kassam Stadium on Tuesday

Dwight aims for game time after getting a good start

INJURY-STRUCK Dwight Tiendalli is hoping his start against Fleetwood Town on Saturday will act as a springboard for his season as he looks forward to more minutes on the pitch

The former Netherlands international was sidelined for almost two months with a hamstring injury but was back in contention in the draw with Rotherham United

The 32-year-old who replaced the injured Ricardinho against Fleetwood made only his second league appearance of the season following a long period out of the game

It was his first run out since the 1-1 draw with MK Dons at the start of September – but he is hoping this will be the catalyst for the rest of the season

Tiendalli said "I'm happy to be out there again I hope I can have a good run and stay fit

"I knew it was going to be difficult because I hadn't played for so long

"Getting back into it is difficult but I hope I can stay fit now and get a lot of minutes."

The former Swansea City man added that Saturday's defeat was difficult to take.

He said "It's really, really tough to take especially because we worked so hard as a team and defended so well

"We didn't create loads of chances but we controlled the game especially in the first half

"As a team we gave 100 per cent so it's really disappointing [to throw away the game so late]."
